Supplementary Information:

1. Background

The United States has been involved in an effort to reduce the formal requirements associated with patent applications and patents in the different countries of the world. A committee of experts, meeting under the auspices of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), continues to develop treaty articles and rules which attempt to minimize the formal requirements associated with patent applications and patents. Upon conclusion, these treaty articles and rules will simplify the formal obligations and reduce the associated costs for patent applicants and owners of patents in obtaining and preserving their rights for inventions in many countries of the world. The next (5th) committee of experts meeting will take place at WIPO in December of 1997. It is likely that two additional such meetings will take place in 1998. The issue of when a Diplomatic Conference will be convened to conclude these negotiations will be discussed in a March 1998 meeting at WIPO. WIPO has suggested that a 1999 Diplomatic Conference may be possible.

The United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), leading the negotiations for the United States, is interested in obtaining comprehensive comments to assess continued support for the effort. Prior to each of the previous meetings of the committee of experts, the USPTO informally solicited and received comments on the then-current drafts of the treaty articles, rules and notes. In light of the impending conclusion of this effort, the USPTO desires to ensure that the text of the treaty is disseminated as widely as possible and the opportunity to provide comments is correspondingly comprehensive.

Written comments may be offered on any aspect of the draft treaty articles, rules or notes or expected implementation in the United States. Comments are also welcome on the following issues:

— the formalities/substantive distinction, discussed, specifically, with respect to Article 5, below;

— the subject matter appropriate for treaty articles versus that which should be relegated to rules; and

— whether this effort should be concluded by a separate treaty or as a protocol to the Patent Cooperation Treaty.

2. Brief Summary of the Draft Treaty

The current text of the draft treaty includes 16 articles, 17 rules and associated notes. A brief summary of selected articles and, where significant, associated rules follows. To the extent that a given article is not summarized, it is considered to be self-explanatory. Insofar as this effort is focused upon and limited to formal matters associated with patent applications and patents, the USPTO expects that, upon implementation, changes to our patent law would be minimal. However, to the extent the need for any such change has been identified for a given draft article or rule, it is noted below. This discussion is intended, only, to highlight various articles and rules; it is not intended as a comprehensive treatment of the draft texts. The draft texts, identified in Part 3, below, should be consulted for a complete understanding of the effort that is under way.

Article 1 - Abbreviated Expressions - This article provides definitions for terms used throughout the text of the draft articles and rules. For the most part, this article is self-explanatory. The USPTO has supported a broadening of the definition for the term "owner" to include owners of both applications and patents.

Article 2 - Applications and Patents to Which the Treaty Applies - This article defines the scope of the treaty by virtue of the types of applications and patents that are intended to be encompassed by its terms.

Article 3 - National Security - This article preserves the right of Contracting Parties to apply measures deemed necessary for the preservation of national security.

Article 4 - Filing Date - This article is viewed by the USPTO as one of the more important features of this effort. It mandates that a Contracting Party must provide a filing date for an application as of the date that the following elements are filed with its Office:

(i) an indication that submitted elements are intended to be an application;
(ii) indications allowing the identity of the applicant or person submitting the application to be established or contacted;
(iii) a description; and
(iv) if the description is not in an accepted language, an indication that the application contains a description.

This filing date requirement is fairly minimal and would greatly simplify the conditions imposed upon the grant of filing dates to patent applications throughout the world. Note that this article would mandate the acceptance, for filing date purposes, of patent applications in any language, subject to the furnishing of later translations. The USPTO has supported this article, with the knowledge that our claim requirement in section 111 (a) of title 35, United States Code, would have to be deleted. Note that such a requirement is not included for provisional applications filed under section 111 (b) of title 35, United States Code. The remainder of the article and Rule 2 provide additional details concerning the grant of filing dates.

Article 5 - Application - This article is another of the more important features of this effort. It mandates that no Contracting Party may impose any requirement relating to the form or contents of an application which is different from or additional to any requirement applicable under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) to an international application. In essence, this article states that if an applicant submits an application to a national office that complies with the requirements of the PCT, that national office can impose no different or additional requirements on that national application. Of course, Contracting Parties would be free to impose requirements that are more liberal, from an applicant's perspective, than the PCT. Of note, the International Bureau of WIPO has expressed the view that the incorporation of the "form or contents" requirements from the PCT into this article would mandate the application of the PCT unity of invention standard for all national applications. The USPTO has taken exception to this view insofar as unity of invention is considered to be a substantive matter that is outside the scope of this effort. This article also provides that the Regulations shall include requirements regarding the filing of applications in paper and electronic form.

Article 6 - Validity of Patent; Revocation - This article mandates that once a patent has been granted, it may not be revoked or invalidated on the ground of non-compliance with certain formal requirements enunciated in Article 5.

Article 7 - Representation; Address for Service - This article addresses requirements regarding representation, address for service and powers of attorney. Importantly, the article provides that Contracting Parties may not mandate representation for, among other things, the filing of a translation, the furnishing of drawings or the payment of any fee.

Article 8 - Signature; Article 9 - Request for Recordal of Change in Name and Address; Article 10 - Request for Recordal of Change in Ownership; Article 11 - Request for Recordal of Licensing Agreement or Security Interest; and Article 12 - Request for Correction of a Mistake. These provisions, and associated rules, are considered to be self-explanatory. It has been the position of the-USPTO that much of the detail in these articles would be more appropriate for a rule insofar as including such a level of detail in treaty articles may render the result unnecessarily inflexible. (While this issue is highlighted here with respect to these enumerated articles, it may apply to the level of detail associated with other articles.)

Article 13 - Extension of a Time Limit Fixed by the Office - This article, with Rule 14, mandates that the Offices of all Contracting Parties must provide for, at the least, a first extension for any time limit set by the Office.

Article 14 - Further Processing; Restoration of Rights - This article mandates that all Contracting Parties must provide for the further processing of applications and the restoration of rights related to applications/patents where compliance with a requirement takes place outside of a time limit originally established by an Office. The article also provides for intervening fights under certain circumstances.

Article 15 - Addition and Restoration of Priority Claim - This article provides for the late claiming of priority of an earlier application where a subsequent application is timely filed and for the delayed filing of the subsequent application. The United States currently permits late claiming of priority and supports the concept of accepting the delayed filing of the subsequent application. With regard to accepting the delayed filing of a subsequent application, an amendment to section 119 of title 35, United States Code, would be warranted.

Article 16 - Regulations - This provision provides the basis for the draft rules that follow. As noted above, there are, currently, 17 draft rules that accompany the text of the treaty.

Pilot for Filing Trademark Applications in an Electronic Environment

Scope of Pilot Program: On or before November 30, 1997, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) will implement a pilot project to allow electronic filing of trademark applications. The pilot will be limited to applications filed under Sections 1(a), 1(b) and 44(d) of the Trademark Act. Applications based on Section 44(e) of the Act will not be included in the pilot because of the added complexity involved in the transmission and receipt of documents certifying registration in an applicant's country of origin.

Requirements for Participation: The PTO will invite a small number of filers to participate in this pilot. Pilot participants must have access to the following: (1) a personal computer; and, (2) a specified computer network browser. Access to a scanner or digital camera for creating digitized images in gif or jpg format will be necessary for the submission of specimens required for applications filed under Section 1(a) and/or special form drawings containing figurative elements for filings under any Section of the Trademark Act. Participants must also maintain a deposit account with the PTO for payment of required filing fees.

Before the application is submitted electronically, the applicant must print and maintain a paper application, and the application must be personally signed and dated by the applicant in permanent ink, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.4(d). Participants also must create and maintain a verified statement, signed and dated by the applicant in permanent ink stating that: (1) the information in the electronic submission is identical to the information in the paper application; and, (2) the symbol shown in the signature block on the electronic application has been adopted by the applicant to verify the contents of the application. These two documents should not be forwarded to the PTO but should be retained by the applicant or the applicant's representative.

Duration: It is anticipated that the pilot project will run for sixty days. However, the period for the pilot project may be extended if necessary. After review and analysis of the pilot results, the PTO plans to broaden the scope of the electronic-filing program by inviting additional participants and accepting electronic submissions of documents other than applications for the registration of trademarks and service marks.

For the purposes of this pilot only, the following requirements are waived.

Rule 1.1(a)

The requirement of 37 CFR 1.1(a) that communications intended for the Patent and Trademark Office must be mailed to the street address of the Office is waived.

Rule 2.51

The requirement of 37 CFR 2.51(e) that an application for the registration of a mark that can be represented in typewritten form include a drawing of the mark typed in capital letters on a separate sheet of paper complying with the requirements of Setion 2.52 is waived.

Rules 2.52(b) & 2.52(c)

The requirements of 37 CFR 2.52(b) and (c) that drawings must be made on paper is waived.

Rules 2.56 & 2.58(a)

The requirement of 37 CFR 2.56 and 37 CFR 2.58(a) that applications under Section 1(a) of the Act include three specimens of the trademark or service mark as used on or in connection with the goods or services in commerce is waived. Instead, participants must electronically file only one specimen of the trademark or service mark as used on or in connection with the goods or services in commerce.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs receive both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and numerical sets of patents in a variety of formats. Patent and trademark search systems in the Cassis CD-ROM series are available at all PTDLs to increase access to that information. It is through the CD-ROM systems and other depository materials that preliminary patent and trademark searches may be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

Each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge. However, there may be charges associated with the use of on-line systems, photocopying and related services.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

Partnership PTDLs provide enhanced and expanded services for which fees are charged. They offer on-line patent text and image searching, on-line trademark searching, and videoconferencing for examiner interviews and workshops. They accept disclosure documents on site, order file wrappers, assignment documents and certified copies for their customers, and host a variety of seminars aimed at specific audiences, including practitioners, paralegals, and independent inventors. Currently, partnerships are located at the Great Lakes Patent and Trademark Center (GLPTC) at the Detroit Public Library in Detroit, Michigan and the Sunnyvale Center for Innovation, Invention and Ideas (SCI^3) in Sunnyvale, California.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
